No TCS on overseas card spends up to ?Rs 7 lakh: Finance ministry

NEW DELHI. The government announced that credit and debit card spending up to Rs 7 lakh in a financial year will not attract the prescribed tax collected at source (TCS), a move that is expected to provide relief to citizens worried about the new rules that kick in from July.Acknowledging the concerns over the new rules, the finance ministry said that expenditure up to Rs 7 lakh will be excluded from the Liberalised Remittance Scheme. This is in line with the threshold for health and education related remittances and the move on overseas travel is in line with it. "Existing beneficial TCS treatment for education and health payments will also continue," it said.

The TCS on remittances for medical treatment and education (from personal source) is currently pegged at 5%, while those who have availed of a bank loan for overseas education face a 0.5% TCS.TNN

Card TCS rejig amid criticismThe TCS on some transactions, such as overseas travel, was increased fourfold to 20% as several people did not seek a refund by not filing returns. The government is hoping that higher TCS will force them to seek credit for the tax that has been collected at the time of the transaction.

The government's latest announcement came amid widespread protests against the decision to implement TCS on payments made by international credit cards for things like overseas travel. Those going on vacation and tour operators are complaining of adverse impact as those availing of a package would have had to cough up the amount upfront and adjust it later, an exercise that could take up to 15 months.

Flat buyers will face 18% GST on open car parks' sale

MUMBAI. The West Bengal bench of the Appellate Authority of Advance Rulings (AAAR) has upheld an earlier ruling and said that sale or right to use a car park is not naturally bundled with construction services.

Thus, it will not be treated as a composite supply and will attract GST at the higher rate of 18%. The AAAR's ruling came in an appeal by Eden Real Estates, which is engaged in construction of residential apartments.

From April 1, 2019, GST is levied at 5% on nonaffordable housing projects without input tax credit (ITC). For ongoing projects (as in this case), the builder has the option to pay GST at the old rate of 12% with ITC, which means taxes paid on inputs can be set off. Had the AAAR treated the transaction relating to the car park as a composite supply, the GST levy that would have been applicable would be that of primary supply of construction, which is lower. According to Anita Rastogi, principal (indirect taxation) at Price Waterhouse-India, the impact of this ruling is that charge 18% GST in respect of car parking space. In this case, the real estate developer submitted that the car parking space is only given to flat buyers and stamp duty is paid on the entire consideration. However, the AAAR bench observed that prospective flat buyers may or may not opt for a car parking space when booking their flat. Thus, the argument that the facility of the right to use open parking space is naturally bundled with construction services and is a composite supply fails.

'IT hardware mkt to grow 2.5x to $25bn'

New Delhi. As the IT hardware business passes through recession in Europe and the US, India will emerge as the engine that will power the growth of products such as laptops, computers, and servers, with the market expected to grow over 2.5 times in the next three years and cross $25 billion in size, Rajeev Chandrasekhar, minister of state for IT and electronics, has said. Initiatives such as the PLI scheme for IT hardware, as well as a strong demand, will see top global companies consider manufacturing investments in India, Chandrasekhar tells TOI in an interview. Excerpts:

IT hardware market is flat worldwide. Will companies be eager to invest now?It's a fact that the industry is flat globally. But India will beat this and come out as one of the fastest-growing markets for the IT hardware industry which comprises tablets, servers, and laptops. India is at a nascent stage of cloud. The cloud is only expanding now, so server demand is going to shoot up as more data centres are built. Also, in segments such as education and health, digitalisation is beginning to pick up. The laptop adoption among students is very low, and so is the case with school tablets. The demand will be equally strong in healthcare which is also digitalising. Beyond this, there is demand from the enterprise sector, and also from the government.

What kind of growth rates do you forecast?

The IT hardware market closed at around $10 billion last fiscal. From here, we now see a growth of 17-18%. And as digitisation of government as well education, healthcare, and enterprise picks up - along with the expansion in cloud - we think this market will hit around $25 billion by 2025-26.

Will there be an incentive for firms making in India? We are obviously going to make sure it is easier for the guy who manufactures here to get the market in India. We are determined to make those who manufacture in India succeed, come what may. The government policies are aimed at allowing people who manufacture in India to be more successful and to gain better market access in public and private contracts.

When it comes to the new PLI for IT hardware, what is the unique thing this time around apart from a fatter incentive plan?
